The musical score consists of four staves of music in common time, key signature of one flat. The top staff is soprano, the second is alto, the third is tenor, and the bottom is bass. The music is divided into four sections, each with a different set of lyrics. The first section starts with a piano introduction followed by the soprano and alto parts. The second section begins with the tenor and bass parts. The third section returns to the soprano and alto parts. The fourth section concludes the piece.
