Performance Notes: The piece is meant to sound like a marching battalion starting far away in the distance. The Bari and Bass parts are like a marching chant. The beginning and subsequent Tenor voices are to resemble battle horns to complement the chanting. The dynamics are placed to give some emphasis on on certain parts. The piece grows as the "batallion gets closer. The final verse is to be the loudest, but diminishing as the "batallion" goes further away until just a whisper, but with emphasis at the end.
